

INGLEBOROUGH ARCHAEOLOGY GROUP

ANTIQUARIAN TO SIGHTSEER: A Bibliographical Study of the Literature inspired by the topography and people of the local area dating between 1500 and 1939.

AUTHOR SURNAME: TITLE:

FIRST NAMES:

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES: DATES OF BIRTH AND DEATH:

1871 Census: Listed at Storr's School, 'nephew', aged 22, Undergraduate of Cambridge. Working as teacher for his aunt. Involved in scientific experiments with atmospheric activity.
1891 Census: Occupation – Professor of Natural Science, Botany, Geology, Chemistry & Zoology. School master & author; living at Fancy Green, Ingleton with his wife, Margaret and six young children; age 41. 1901 Census: Occupation – Sewing Machine repairer; now living at 14 Horsemarket, Kirkby Lonsdale, with four children at home, the eldest working as a clerk.
John Bentley – known and remembered by old men in Ingleton p.270

TITLE(S):

PLACE(S) OF PUBLICATION:

PUBLISHER(S)

EDITION: VOLUME DATE OF PUBLICATION

SIZE:

TEXT:

PLATES:

NOTES: local views, engraving of church as rebuilt in 1887, entrance to Clapham cave with visitors. Also various date stones.

MAPS:

AUTHOR: Balderston DATE(S): c.1888
SCALE: one mile to the inch NUMBER: 1
TITLE: none

LOCATON:

Member's private collection. Ingleton library.

BINDING:

Green cloth. Embossed cornflowers. Gilt lettering.

NOTES:

Very wide ranging in his interests with sections on the landscape, caves and pot holes, natural history, local history, geology, atmospheric electricity and local meteorology.

His descriptive accounts of landscape features are interesting but there is not a great deal of local history. More facts/lists than analysis. Much of his information comes from the parish registers. Interesting appendix on Manorial rights and dispute. Section on the dispute over the naming of the Twiss, Doe and Greta.

Fond of statistics! Information on Kingsdale and Greygareth (Gragareth).

The personal map is interesting, in that it is very selective.

An easy book to read and very detailed on natural history and the landscape.