Text on gravestone
S. M. of James Brown, late of Whitber, who departed this life March 21st 1823 in the 47th. of his age; Whose mortal remains are here deposited until the Day of Retribution. He was an affectionate husband, a tender parent, a beneficent neighbour, a social character; and though his is now dead, yet he will long live in the affections of his surviving friends. ~ “You’re come dear friends this sacred place to view, where lies my corpse, that bloom’d as well as you, Till pale Consumption with his fatal dart, Aim’d at my life, AND pierc’d my vital part: But when th’Archangel sounds through earth and skies, My body here, shall then all glorious rise. Farewell now world, and all the toils of life, Farewell dear children, and my loving wife: Remember what at parting I did say,

"Revere the Lord, and, choose the narrow way."

Alice Brown

widow of the above James Brown who departed this life July 3rd 1840, aged 58 years.

Ah! Cruel death, that would no longer spare;
A wife belov'd - a mother ever dear
Great is the loss to those now left behind,
But she, we hope, eternal joys doth find.
