Recording built heritage with 3D photogrammetry

Have you ever wanted to learn about the application of 3D modelling in recording our built heritage?

The YDNPA Historic Environment team are running a free training workshop in Bainbridge on the 15th of January 2019 (9:30-15:00).

The use of photogrammetry in recording built heritage will be introduced, with guidance on undertaking 3D surveys and an opportunity to have a go.

An overview of the built heritage of dairying in the Dales will also be given, along with an outline of how you can get further involved in doing 3D surveys.
